6 TERMS THAT EVERY UI DESIGNER SHOULD KNOW

UI Design

60-30-10 rule

It's a classic rule that helps create a color palette for a space. It states that 60% of the space should be a dominant color, 30% should be the secondary color or texture and the last 10% should be an accent.

Stepper

When your form has multiple pages, a stepper is a must. Steppers keep users informed about their progress by indicating what step they're on and how many steps they have left.

Vertical rhythm

In Vertical Rhythm, we try to keep vertical spaces between elements on a page consistent with each other. This is often done with the help of a baseline

Got the Rhythm

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetuer adipiscing elit, sed diam nonummy nibh euismod tincidunt ut laoreet dolore magna aliquam

Got no Rhythm

Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet, consectetuer adipiscing elit, sed diam nonummy nibh euismod tincidunt ut laoreet dolore magna aliquam

A "breadcrumb" (or "breadcrumb trail") is a type of secondary navigation scheme that reveals the user's location in a website or Web application.

A common application-design pattern for inputting information, wizards work well for processes that are performed only occasion-ally.
